

APPROACH FROM LOCUST STREET

Steelton Town Center

Existing Streetscape

The Front and Locust streets intersection is the signature location on Front Street and acts as the anchor point for the new mixed use development. Within an anchor building, retail entrances should be highly visible, colorful and even visually “loud” while office entrances should be obvious but refined. Even when all of the uses are in one integrated structure, an identity should be provided for each component from the outside, giving tenants and customers a strong sense of place and orientation.
